NOMINATION FORM

Canadian Innovation Initiative of the Year Award - 2021

The Tunnelling Association of Canada presents the Canadian Innovation Initiative Award to a person or team who has significantly contributed to a Canadian Innovation Initiative that has demonstrated the highest level of engineering service & skill in any of the following: research in engineering product design, product development, technological ideas, patent designs, mechanical engineering concepts, or geotechnical design.

The award will be presented to a person or all team members (e.g. Owner, Tunnel Designer, Shaft Designer, Design Build Contractor, Tunnel Contractor), at the same level of involvement (contract value and/or scope) who significantly contributed to the Canadian Innovation Initiative. All team members must be aware and support the nomination by providing an email.

The individual and/or company who has submitted the nomination form is responsible for ensuring the accuracy of their nomination and that all team members (same level of involvement e.g. contract value and/or scope) are listed on the nomination form (separate pages may be included). Additional costs for amending the award videos or awards once completed, due to an oversight or errors made by the individual and/or company who submitted the nomination, form will be at their own expense, and not of TAC.

TAC will make the award videos available to TAC Corporate Members for use in their own internal promotion.
